Why Product Test When Considering the Purchase of a Metal Detector?

Following are the most common reasons to product test and one or more of these testing objectives are likely to be of value in sizing up the proper metal detector for your application:

- ❖ Determine the metal detector model required to meet your sensitivity requirements
- ❖ Allows Advanced Detection Systems to establish a sensitivity specification for your application
- ❖ You will receive a written "Sensitivity Guarantee"
- ❖ The product testing process will simplify startup
